Lee has done some electrical work for me in the past so i decided to ring him for some advice over the wiring configuration for a light switch and light fitting. Lee was able to give advice over the phone and provide wiring diagrams which proved really helpfull, resulting in him not having to come out and me being able to complete the work. Lee was very safety conscious and professional with his advice and refused payment. Very professional and experianced tradesman and i would have no problem recommending him for other work.
