06-Apr-2015	I contacted Alan to install a satellite dish in my new property. Before even quoting me on the job, he arranged to go to the house and assess what was going on to determine exactly what was needed. He then provided me with three options, varying in cost, and was upfront about exactly what the limitations on each option were as my install was not an easy one. Alan spent the entire day doing my install and the result is exactly as expected. I honestly feel he went above and beyond what was expected and would recommend his services to anyone asking.
