David is a skilled and reliable tradesman who did a superb job on wiring up new ovens and induction hob in refitted kitchen. He was prompt, courteous and professional at all times. I cannot recommend highly enough!

We have used David several times and each time he has provided an extremely efficient, courteous and professional service. Wouldn't trust anyone else with electrical work. David knows his stuff and ensures everything is done to the highest standards.

David Long carried out various electrical tasks for me and was invariably cheerful, efficient and knowledgeable. This was at a stressful time for me therefore it was good to feel that all was done so professionally. I would certainly recommend him to others and would use his services again.

Professional in every way.

This was the third time Rob and David have done work for us in four years. They are just great. I always ask for their advice and recommendations, and nothing has been too much trouble for them. The quality of their work is just fantastic. I would recommend them to anyone.

Rob Long of David J Long Ltd replaced wall lights, and fitted extra new ones, in my elderly mother's lounge. His approach was both practical and flexible as he worked round the physical restrictions of her second floor flat. The resulting set up was visually attractive, as well as involving minimum disruption to her existing decoration - and all to budget.

Rob was friendly, took the time to get to know what we wanted and even did an extra job we hadn't prepared him for. He charged us a very reasonable price and we couldn't recommend him higher.

Friendly, polite, clean and efficient. They did a great job and left the property in excellent condition despite a full rewiring. The quote was very competitive and they kept to this. Communicated throughout to allow us to change position of sockets etc and nothing was too much trouble. I can't recommend them highly enough.
