Absolutely fantastic service from Dean. New Company logo and magazine advert designed in a short time scale. Flexible and creative and very understanding of our many changes. Would definitely recommend!

Very high standard of service, attention to detail and client liaison. An excellent value for money service with a keen eye for the client's needs and objectives.

26-Oct-2017

First class service. This was the first month I have used the company to produce a monthly magazine and everything went like clockwork and to deadline. Highly recommended.

21-Sep-2015

Very professional and personable at a competitive rate. We'll be back!

Dean and the Magazine Production company always provide a first-class service in producing my bi-monthly eJournals. The finished product is of the highest order and nothing is too much trouble for Dean when we are working at completing each edition.

We have been working with Dean for over 14 years now and the service he provides is first class. He has completed a wide range of projects for us including biannual catalogues, year planners, business cards and promotional adverts. He always ensures everything is produced on time and to a very high standard. Dean is extremely knowledgeable and always happy to help with any enquiry. He offers a friendly, reliable, efficient and professional service which we would without hesitation recommend.

06-Feb-2015	The Magazine Company supply a first class service and offer great value for money. Lisa MacInnes, Public Relations Assistant at Morrison Utility Services
05-Feb-2015	A pleasure as always to deal with
04-Feb-2015	The job in question was an annual publication to accompany a trade show. Magazine production Co. has been designing and setting the publication for several years and we are always pleased with the quality of work and commitment. I also work with MPC on another bi-monthly e-title and, again, their commitment and contribution to the magazine are outstanding. They don't just design and produce but also contribute ideas about the wider development of the title.
04-Feb-2015	You could not get a more Professional service. He listens, acts and delivers every time.
04-Feb-2015	Dean, Director of The Magazine Production Company has done all our art and design work for the Shoreham Airshow for 3 years now. To date we have raised over 2 Million pounds for the RAFA Charity and Dean has contributed to this with his outstanding work. He is keen to work with all parties involved and constructive in his views. Schedules are always met and he has extended his help and support to other areas including supporting the Media Team at the Airshow along with its Press day in August. A friendly and easy person to get on with he is a great asset to all the RAFA Shoreham Airshow. John Periam Press Officer
04-Feb-2015	The Magazine Production Company gave my business a lot of attention and carried out the work quickly and efficiently.
04-Feb-2015	The Magazine Production Company not only works super-efficiently for its client but in a no-nonsense, forthright and honest manner. At no time is the customer placed under pressure, as every step of the procedure (towards creating a new publication) is explained and explored, to ensure that subsequent problems simply never occur. Mr Dean Cook, the owner of the business, manages all aspects of his dealings in welcoming and friendly ways but he is not afraid of underscoring the pitfall potential of some of the more radical themes that potential magazine publishers can create. Transparency is the key. However, by also exercising tremendous empathy, both time and subsequent cost implications are reduced. It is never less thanm a pleasureable experience to work with Mr Cook and The Magazine Production Company.
