The interaction, the price, the delivery time, and finally the product all were above expectation. This overall service was second to none.

Following an early arrival of my grandchild, my daughter was struggling to get the pram out of the house due to the design of the front door lip and steps, so a ramp was needed urgently otherwise she would be house bound. I researched various ramps (including dog ramps) and realised I needed a wheel chair ramp. I spoke to The Ramp People, explained what I needed and had found their website to be really helpful on instructions on how to measure to ensure the correct gradient of slope. Having spoken to Shane, who was really helpful, a decision was made on a specific ramp for urgent next day delivery. I have to say I cannot rate them highly enough. Thoughtful, helpful and informative. Really good service all round. One happy Grandmother, one happy new mother and a new born baby that can get out.

Excellent customer service from beginning to end. Knowledgeable and extremely helpful staff. Superfast next day delivery. The product I ordered was as described and excellent quality. Would not hesitate to recommend this company. There are several companies such as Utilities and Mobile Phone operators that could learn a thing or two from The Ramp People in how to train their staff in great customer service and in doing so retain and increase their customer base and receive excellent reviews
