I have met representatives of Digital Design Agency at a number of networking events. I have finally taken the plunge to use their services and have not been disappointed.

Digital Design Agency managed to complete my website in record time! I got sign off on a Friday, had a draft by Wednesday and then my site went live that Friday, I can't believe I got it up and running in a week! They were professional, quick and a joy to work with! I didn't even need to go in and have a meeting I did everything over the phone which was much easier for me! I would highly recommend them to any company.

I commissioned DDA to complete a large website build for my new marketing business. Build started towards the very end of July and was handed over for final copy to be added by me on 28 August (as requested). I finished my changes on 8 September and DDA set the site live on 10 September 2015 (again meeting the date requested). The work DDA carried out for me was exemplary. Their service is very natural and friendly and their technical support and knowledge of digital marketing and SEO is very impressive. I am not always easy to please for projects like this and would therefore have no hesitation in recommending them.
