21-Mar-2016	From the beginning BANS have been a pleasure to work with. They offered lots of advice and cost effective options with our door security system. The system was installed within a day with the minimum of fuss. We had a small problem a few days later (not related to the installation) and BANS attended site the same day to help us through it and liaised with the supplier on our behalf. Once our alarm monitoring contract is over, I'm going to pass the business over to BANS too.....
