The team arrived on site on the agreed date and started work on the foundations. It was all done with almost military precision with everyone in the team knowing exactly what was needed. It was the little things that were obviously well planned and the materials used were all of a high specification with explanations of why very expensive screws are used as they will never rust or break. We were really impressed at the time and effort that was spent on the roof material installation. From the first visit to the final day there was great attention to detail and the whole office from the ground up is guaranteed by Rubicon which give peace of mind is any problems occur.

From start to finish we could not fault the professionalism, standard of work and customer service that all at Rubicon have provided.

The customer service was outstanding from day one and also have been made to feel that if anything goes wrong in the future we can contact them. The whole team were professional, friendly, couldn't wish for more. Also the materials used are of a high standard. Thank you so much.

What can I say about Rubicon. Professional from the first to last interaction, it was great to be able to visit the showrooms (on numerous occasions), and have all my queries were answered, nothing was too much trouble. This is what customer service is about, if only every company was this efficient. The build was carried out to a high standard in the worst of weather and all on-time. A really friendly and efficient team and a pleasure to have on-site. I have no hesitation in recommending this local company.

08-Dec-2020	From our first visit to the showroom to completion John and the team at Rubicon were professional, helpful and a joy to deal with. We went through all of the details together, we were then presented with a plan of action and contract and every stage was achieved on time. The quality of workmanship was superb and the office was built from the ground up and is not a pre fabricated building put together on site. The team turned up and worked hard all the way through, sometimes in the most awful weather, yet they achieved everything they needed on a daily basis, turned up when they said they would and completed the project on time with a smile. We would highly recommend Rubicon for anyone thinking of having a garden office. They are the experts, it is what they do and they do brilliantly.
