Dave and his excellent team have laid a beautiful patio and path which is exactly what I wanted. This was done very efficiently and cost effectively and I have no hesitation in recommending them.

Dave, Ewan and Sam have completed a major landscaping project for us - replace and extend a deck, lay a new patio, build a pergola, build raised beds out of railway sleepers, clad two fences and relaid the lawn. The quality of workmanship and attention to detail has been excellent. Dave also provided very detailed quotes, invoices and the project has I believe been excellent value for money. Dave also had very good design ideas, suggesting an artificial living wall on the fence next to the pergola. It looks great. The whole team were a pleasure to deal with and very friendly. All in all we would recommend Stone Valley without any hesitation.

Dave and his team have been absolutely fantastic. We had a fairly significant project with a rear garden which sloped 3m in height, 25m in length. With restricted access for equipment, Dave and his team, managed to convert our garden into three significant flat terraces. The attitude of the team was brilliant and Dave certainly knows how to pick his staff. Dave was also extremely good at working towards a budget (too good in fact, we had to provide a little more license which is quite refreshing) The whole team at Stone Valley had a real can do work ethic and, despite numerous issues with one difficult neighbour, always sought to be accommodating. Not only would I recommend Stone Valley moving forward, I'm already planning further jobs (albeit on a much larger scale)!

I was impressed by Stone Valley Landscape's detailed estimate and initial emails. The company's overnight decision (30th Sept/1st Oct) to walk out part way through the work was less impressive. One month on, I have heard nothing further from this company. I paid a substantial sum of money in advance for materials, some of which were never purchased. I have yet to receive a final invoice. Trader Response: Thank you for your feedback, I am very sorry that you felt let down by our company. We did not walk out part way through the project (and we never have on any project delivered over the last 20 years, however I apologise if that is your perception). Problems arose when there was a delay with the delivery of your paving due to the national lockdown and the significant supply chain issues which was being caused by Covid at the time. Unfortunately, although we communicated with you that these matters were beyond our control, we are sorry that it caused such dissatisfaction with you. The substantial sum of money paid was a deposit for the materials most of which were purchased. Despite the issues we endeavoured to continue in a professional manner and contacted Trading Standards who advised us as a goodwill gesture, with which we agreed, not to send an invoice for the work which had been carried out even though it actually totalled more than the remaining materials. Stone Valley Landscapes would still have been happy to finish the work if we were given the chance to do so.

Stone Valley laid patios for our neighbours and us, and a full turf job for her and small areas of turf for us. Ours was a reclaimed brick patio with a recess tray over the drain. Dave instilled me with confidence when he first came to see the gardens: he was clearly knowledgeable and a nice guy to boot! He and his young team were friendly, polite and worked very hard. It was a pleasure to have them in the garden for that time as they were so pleasant - and what's more - really nice to each other! Dave is a perfectionist and ensured that everything was carried out to his exacting standards. He was also always flexible. Both ourselves and the neighbours were very pleased with the results. Thoroughly recommended!

Prompt and professional service and good value from Dave and his team on our fence repairs. Considerate, polite and hardworking. I would recommend them.

Absolutely great all round. Gave a very competitive estimate for our patio, and work was carried out smoothly, and without any issues. Dave is very friendly and the finished article is exactly how we envisaged it. All areas cleaned up following completion of work. May
