Bought a house last year. Required gutting of 20 year old bathroom and separate shower room. I wanted modern white bathroom suite, square, "P" shaped bath/shower. Bathroom to be tiled, shower room using acrylic wall panels. Although he was the lowest of three quotes, I was impressed by his level of professionalism in quoting the job and explaining the options. It gave me the confidence to go with the lowest quote. Started on time and completed earlier than anticipated. Dan (the boss) does some of the work himself and takes a pride in the work, as you would expect with it being his company. He runs a team of six guys and covers carpentry, plumbing and electrical work, which is certificated. You get a personal service of the highest quality. I have total confidence in recommending him.

Morris Parker were asked to quote for a new kitchen and revamp of tired bathrooms. Daniel was attentive to how I wanted it done, balancing budget against quality in an apartment we would be letting. Work commenced as he had an unexpected opportunity to do it, and he resolved a few supply chain issues we had with ordering fittings. The work was carried out without fuss. He was very courteous & diplomatic with our quick to moan neighbors who seem to regards trades-people as the Devil's disciples, and completed on schedule, on budget, and to an excellent standard. He even answered his phone at an ungodly hour & sorted out a water leak from our property encroaching into a neighbors apartment (I'd emphasize certainly not due to his workmanship) which was above and beyond the call of duty. I can certainly recommend Daniel and his Morris Parker team.
