We put our things into storage with Black Hole Storage and they moved our belongings when required last month. The service was slick and friendly and I'd recommend them to others

We have been using Black Hole Storage for four years. I would rate them very highly - very professional and easy to deal with. We have never had cause to complain, which is perfect considering our very complex and unusual storage requirements. I would happily recommend them to any other customer. Black Hole collects all of our garden furniture from the West End of London (2 large van loads) every autumn, moves them to South Newton, stores them safely and returns them to central London in the spring. Always impressive performance.

I've used Black Hole Storage and removals for around seven years and always found them to be efficient, well organised; in short they provide a first class service. Having known Leon for this time, when he says he'll do something, he delivers. Working with this company has always taken the stress out of moving

They packed up our little house in Salisbury last year in about 3 hours and stored everything till I was in England in January to have everything delivered down to Devon. The staff both times were quick and very pleasant and made moving very easy.
