20-May-2021	Very informative and helpful. Great source of experience and very helpful
19-May-2021	Excellent. The legislation is a minefield and the service provided by the Collective helps break it down into understandable laymans terms.
19-May-2021	Excellent service, comprehensive information and support.
19-May-2021	Excellent. Queries are always answered and ongoing access to the organisation's Facebook pages is a constant source of smaller points of information.
19-May-2021	Throughout the whole process of CE marking my doll's clothes I have always known that the answers to any questions I may have are only an email away, though to be fair I have hardly ever needed to contact them- the level of explanation and detail on the website, Facebook page and marking pack are such that very little extra help is needed! Any emails I have sent are always replied to promptly by Suzi or Laura, despite them both advertising the fact they have families to work around too! Nothing is too trivial for them- they have both been in the same position as the rest of us toy makers, and they show this through their understanding that sometimes it's the simplest things that need explaining the most! Quite simply- without them, my little business would no longer exist. Excellent.
