Comments: We Make Media is a Devon web design company, book and magazine publisher, experts in print and website design, content creation and digital marketing.

We create websites that are bespoke, SEO and content-driven. We publish magazines and books to build customer awareness and loyalty, and reach a targeted audience.

Our unique, attention-grabbing content is written for web and print by our team of trained journalists and writers who tell your story. Our photographers, illustrators and graphic designers bring that story to life.

Family-run We Make Media was established in 2009 by Jeff and Jennie Cooper. Approachable, friendly and down-to-earth, we have 25-years experience with well-known national companies: Jeff as graphic designer, web designer and publisher; Jennie as a journalist and editor. Today, we are happiest when working with like-minded, small businesses. We understand the challenges you face and work to improve your company with the same love and dedication as our own.

Jeff has designed my last 3 websites and I have found him efficient and has come up with some excellent ideas to optimise our site
