Steve and his team were brilliant. They picked up the request quickly and visited, taking account of my wishes. They did the job pretty promptly. Steve said he hoped it would be finished in three days, but it was done in two and well cleared up. Throughout his team were polite and considerate. Part of the job was to install a new cooker. Afterwards, I found one part was missing - not their fault. Steve was on the case within the hour, chasing the supplier. I'm very happy with my new kitchen and what was done took full account of what I wanted and the constraints of the property.
