In the first instance when Nigel came to the house to provide the quote, he gave me very fair advice, the net result of which was less business for him. He and his colleague arrived on time to do undertake the decorating and worked quietly and diligently throughout the day. When everything was completed, they cleaned up and then helped me replace 3 pieces of heavy furniture. The level of customer service and the standard of their work was exemplary and I have no hesitation whatsoever in recommending this business.
