Just had the good fortune to come across this company Humphries Digital Aerials. Darren (the main man) fit an extra TV socket and freesat box. He didn't leave until he tested all the functions and systems were working and he made sure I understood all the features. He was courteous and patient when he went through the manual. Darren was not only professional, helpful and knowledgeable but also reliable and very reasonable cost It seems that this small family business has been around for many years and is run very efficiently by Michelle (his partner). It's not usual to get old fashioned courteous professional service these days. I would recommend anyone thinking of using this company for their digital aerials or satellite needs.
