What can we say multi shades of Gray. The A Team. Very neat and tidy. Workmanship outstanding. These guys came in and stripped out our old kitchen, knocked down a wall to make it bigger, installed a lintel, bricked up an outside door , which you would never now know existed and closed off another internal door. Re-wired and plastered all in a few days. Fancy light fittings installed and even painted the walls pink. These guys are the best I have encountered, truly professional and are really good at what they do. Thank you Tom, Sam, Eddy and Sarah, brilliant.

The guys provided an outstanding service. They resolved a number of problems created by a previous kitchen fitter. They created a stepped down ceiling with shadow gap, to house our new extractor unit, that is a beautiful addition to the kitchen and installed all remaining units to perfection. They arrived on time, didn't create any mess and left us with an excellent product.

Beyond our expectations, which were high! You do not offered enough space for me to begin therefore all I can note is that this was a life changing experience and I would do it all over again if I could. from the very first day(in fact before they were even scheduled too) until the last day the service and workmanship was amazing. A good family company with great values and great work ethics.

| 24-Nov-2015 | Outstanding service received from very first meeting with Tom to discuss our requirements, through to receiving the plans and builders arriving on site to start job. Very professional level of service received at all times, and Tom and the team were readily available to discuss/clarify our requirements and keep us advised of any issues as they arose. If you want a builder that does what they say they will, on time, to budget and project manages the whole job for you then would highly recommend this company. Nothing was too much trouble and really nice bunch of guys.. Special mention for Sarah who does an excellent job of managing the office, procurement and invoicing, and always seemed to be available, even at weekends! Very happy with finished single storey extension, finished to a very high standard, would definitely recommend and use again. |
