Andy Berry has always supported our charity in a very safe, professional and competent way. He uses good quality materials which reflect in the cost, but the quality of the end product and his great customer service make this extra worthwhile. We have used cheaper contractors before and we will not go back (Andy has had to replace much of their work). We know that Andy is the more cost efficient option and look forward to working with him again in the future.

| 21-Sep-2015 | Mr Berry was very professional and co-operative. He attended the work site to assess and complete the work around the progress of another contractor whose work was delayed due to bad weather, he was also able to fit in additional items over his original assessment.
